

APC NEWS

Weekly

Free

Featured in this edition

Interview with Mr. Hill
Pippa Middleton's wedding
First World War history projects

As easy as APC!

Exclusive Articles

Amazing New Journal!

Editorial

This newspaper was created by Miss Redding's APC group who are Éléonore, Lothaire, Mason, Kierahn and Will. The purpose of this newspaper is to inform, entertain and amuse other students. This is our first week and this is what we'll be doing in this newspaper; we will have a teacher of the week who we will be interviewing (this week we went straight to the top and interviewed Mr. Hill), we will have a jokes and riddles section, there will be articles on different events and activities.

*By Will and Kierahn
(Editors)*

The Editorial Team

Photo Frances Redding

Joke of the Week

Where do polar bears get their money from?

Riddle of the Week

When I was four my brother was half of my age; now I am eighteen how old is my brother?

Answers on page 3

APC News – Make Sure You Get The Next Issue

Place an order now with our publications team.

Contact Miss Redding or any of the Editorial Team in Year 6 to reserve a copy.

Hurry, Hurry, HURRY!

CHILL WITH MR. HILL

By Kierahn and Will

This week, the editorial team of APC News decided to interview EIFA's Headteacher, Mr. Hill, to find out a bit more about his projects for the school. We asked some questions about the future of the school, and some personal questions. Here they are:

Have you worked in other schools, if yes which ones?

I have worked in other schools, they are: the American School in Paris, Atlanta International School, Antwerp British School in Belgium and the International Academy, Kuwait.

What future activities are you are proposing for the school next year?

Next year students will be able to sit the IGCSE exam at 16 and and LAMDA qualifications (in music and drama).

Are you planning on expanding the school?

Yes, I would like to add year twelve and thirteen classes

Why have you decided to work in this school?

Because I have already worked in two bilingual schools and I enjoyed it. Also, I liked the idea of living in England, especially London.

Are you thinking of establishing an EIFA school somewhere else than in London?

I think it's a good idea, but I'm not in charge of that.

What are your favourite hobbies?

I enjoy skiing and playing tennis.

What are your favourite animals?

My favourite animals are dogs.

What are their names?

Rocky and Deefa (D for dog!)

What is your favourite colour?

Dark blue is my favourite colour.

Which school do you like more?

Duchess House is my favourite.

What is your favourite football club?

I am a hardcore fan of Liverpool.

Mr. Hill, hard at work in his office.

(Photo Will L)

Lights, Camera, Action!

by Lothaire

Miss Redding and Year 6 have been making an iMovie film. They used a song about World War One called Recruiting Sergeant, performed by the Canadian band, Great Big Sea. This song is about the miseries of the war. Some pupils separated into groups to make the film, but others worked on their own.

Some of the Year 7 pupils helped to sing the song. The Year 6 then added photos of the First World War that went with the song. Afterwards Miss Redding sent the song to the students' parents.

The Caribou Memorial at Beaumont-Hamel.

(Photo Harry Palmer)

Society Wedding of the Year

By Eléonore

On Saturday, 20th May 2017, Pippa Middleton, the Duchess of Cambridge's younger sister, got married to James Matthews, a millionaire investment banker. The wedding took place at St. Mark's Church in Englebury, Berkshire followed by a reception in a glass marquee at the Middleton family home.

Her nephew, Prince George, was a pageboy, and her niece, Princess Charlotte, was a bridesmaid. However, they weren't the only pageboy and bridesmaid; some were from James Matthews's family. Some great stars, like the tennis player, Roger Federer, were also at the wedding.

After the ceremony

(Photos Getty Images)

EXHIBITION

SEE IT BEFORE FRIDAY 16TH JUNE 2017
FIRST FLOOR, DUCHESS HOUSE

TRENCH LIFE

By Mason

Year 6 have been learning about the First World War with Miss Redding. They did art projects with both Miss Redding and Madame Heider. With Miss Redding, they used clay to make trenches, which were like deep ditches dug into the dirt. Each side in the fighting had their trenches. The students had a block of clay and rolled it out, then dug the trenches and added flags, to represent each side.

With Madame Heider, the children took a notebook and they made it look old. They had to bring a notebook, coffee or tea and photos. Then they used the coffee or tea to paint the notebooks to make them look aged; they added pictures, and text so that the books looked like personal journals from the First World War.

These art projects are now on temporary display on the first floor of Duchess House.

(photo Lothaire V)